n/a

9. What attracted you to SEIC in the first place?

That's the laboratory's facilities. In the classroom we learned about the theory, but the rest of the time we were running the machines, experimenting and re-verifying that theoretical basis in the lab was extremely interesting. As a result, my research became more effective.

10. What are the strengths of SEIC?

We have been learned and practiced directly with full facilities,

It's easy to understand the reality of the course.

SEIC has a lot of international students, which helps us to improve my English and exchange the valuable knowledge.

11. What did you enjoy about studying in Japan?

I really like the study environment in Japan, Anything that is needed for learning and experimenting, we can easily find them in the lab, otherwise we can buy them at the supermarket.
